PALMER'S REGIME TARGET FOR QUIZ

National Scandal Charged In Department's Con- duct of Affairs.

New York, Jan. 18.—An immediate congressional investigation of the Department of Justice and the office of the alien property custodian was recommended by Samuel Untermyer, in an address tonight at a testimonial dinner to Nathan Hirsch, prominently identified with the campaign against rent profiteering here. Mr. Untermyer, who as chief counsel in the joint legislative committee's investigation of the alleged building trust, has obtained numerous indictments disclosed he had no direct legal evidence against the two departments.

"But" he added, "if a fraction of what comes to me is true (and I believe much of it is true), such an investigation will disclose to the world a series of the most mortifying scandals that has ever befallen our country."

Probe Urgently Needed.

"There never has been a governmental department, national or state," Mr. Untermyer said, "so urgently in need of immediate and painstaking investigation as are those of the alien property custodian and the Department of Justice, dating from the time of the enactment of the alien property custodian law. But the investigations must be conducted, if at all, under skillful, searching and strictly non-partisan direction, with the aid of experienced counsel and only after the same careful preparation such as that which precedes the trial of a case."

"Our national honor is involved here. The vast powers and patronage of those great offices are said to have been used, and it is the general belief that they were incidentally used, to build up a political machine which, however, fortunately failed of its purpose. But the uses to which they and their vast patronage were put was nonetheless sinister because they did not succeed."

Mr. Untermyer declared "fortunes in patronage are believed to have been squandered among favorites in the form of lawyers' and directors' fees taken out of the pockets of citizens and aliens whose properties were seized, or unfortunately came under the control of the government."

"There is just one decent loophole of escape for us," he added, "and that is by a merciless exposure of the facts by the Congress."

Investigation of the activities of the secret service of the Department of Justice before and during the war, Mr. Untermyer said he believed would develop the fact that it did little except to rely largely on the reports of the British secret service that were gathered before we entered the war, and to pay off the grudges and play its game and induce us to intern the unfortunate who had incurred its enmity before we entered the war."

LEGION HAPPENINGS.

An interstate conference of the commanders and adjutants of the Departments of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas is in progress for January probably at Austin, Tex.

braith Jr., of the American Legion, will address the first state convention of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion of Vermont, which will be held in Burlington, on January 14. The National Commander also will attend a conference of post commanders and adjutants and a meeting of the state executive committee which will be held at the same time.

COMBS-CUNDIFF

Mr. Paul Cundiff and Miss Lena Combs were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, January 15, at the home of Rev. Russell Walker, Hartford, he performing the rites joining the two in connubial bliss.

Mr. Cundiff is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cundiff, of Buford, an industrious and highly respected young man, while his bride is the only daughter of Mr. M. H. Combs, of Dukehurst, a bright and splendid type of young womanhood. We join their many friends in wishing for them the very best of the material things that come in this life.

JAS. HUDSON DIES IN KIEFER, OKLAHOMA

Death came to Mr. James Hudson, an employ of the Wright garage, Kiefer, Oklahoma, Tuesday, Dec. 28th, 1921, after a very brief illness. Altho he had not been well for some days he was walking around town Sunday. Funeral services were held at Mounds Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Conkright, of the Sapulpa Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Brill, of Kiefer M. E. Church, in whose congregation the deceased was frequently found. The singing was by Mesdames Reel, Ragan, Lyons, Zickefoose and Rev. Brill. The following obituary was read by Rev. Brill:

He was run over by a wagon loaded with coal 16 or 17 years ago, since then he had not been in robust health, but when able to work, was never idle. In his youth he became a member of the Baptist Church at Hartford. He was charitable and generous and his friends were numbered by those who knew him.

The deceased is survived by one brother, A. L. Hudson, who also resides in Kiefer, Okla.

CANDIDATES' CARDS IN COMING ISSUE

Without any show or presumption of one in authority, we have delayed announcement of aspirants for nomination for various positions on the Republican ticket to be voted for in the coming August Primary and election to follow. We had hoped that candidates would not announce until late in March, but so many desire to get into the field and start their campaign, we have decided to open our columns for announcements, with the next week's issue, notwithstanding the fact we had told quite a few that we would not likely run them before the first issue in March or later.

We merely make this announcement that all may be put on notice, as we have reluctantly allowed some ten candidates to pay their fees and lodge their announcements in this office. As a race starter would say, GO!

CLEAR RUN.

Mr. Clarence Hoover is carrying the mail now, between Clear Run and C. C. Hoovers, his route being thru the Taffy and Union Grove section.

Messrs W. D. and Jease Smith, of Hartford, made a business trip to Taffy Tuesday.

Monroe Smith's foot is better this week. In our report last week we mentioned the fact that Mr. Smith had a very sore foot and that little Miss Ida Ruth Park had eczema and by some mistake the printer made it appear that Mr. Smith had eczema and failed to mention little Miss Ida's trouble.

We merely make this announcement that all may be put on notice, as we have reluctantly allowed some ten candidates to pay their fees and lodge their announcements in this office. As a race starter would say, GO!

CLEAR RUN.

I. D. Claire was in town a short time Sunday, and owing to the fact it was Sunday he missed seeing Battle Nall, the Kaiser and Eck Rial's old gray hoss.

I. D. C. said he never thought of it's being Sunday or else he would not have paid out his money, or any part of it, to come to Hartford when he hadn't a chance of lamping that trio.

But we can assure Mr. Claire that the old hoss is still gray and Battle's the same old Bat, and the Kaiser the same old popcorn profiteer and if any difference at all he is perhaps a hit aimer.

M. L. HEAVRIN UNDERGOES OPERATION IN CINCINNATI

Attorney M. L. Heavrin went to Cincinnati, Ohio the first of this week, where he underwent an operation for eye trouble. A growth or infection of some character had the optic necessitated the removal of the ball, but the operation was reported as successful and vision will not likely be impaired. Mr. Heavrin is expected to arrive home during the coming week.

MR. SAVAGE TO OCCUPY PULPIT HERE SUNDAY

Mr. Wm. Savage, who conducted services at the local Christian church some weeks ago, will again occupy the pulpit of that church Sunday, next. Mr. Savage delivered a splendid sermon on the former occasion and should have a well filled house at the coming service.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

They say things are coming down, maybe they are, but hy-jings we have not found any use yet for a lone Jitney, except to buy a package of chewing gum, 1-16 of one ounce of popcorn, or a dozen peanuts at Kaiser Rial's joint and to drop into the collection basket at Sunday School and meeting.

We are going to get the Board of Directors of this concern to post these premises against candidates. The pesky things are so numerous and all-fired insistant, and hanging around so thick we can hardly spit without spattering one of them.

We like to look upon a good looking lady, both old or young. (This is not for our wife) we believe it to be within the rights of all persons to make themselves attractive, but may the good Lord deliver us from some of these low waisted and high skirted Janes we occasionally meet with the top end done in varied colored varnish and enamels. Sometimes it is enough to give one a fatal case of painter's colic.

Squire Buck Dean of Dundee, went to Centertown Tuesday to transact some business and wound up in time to catch the mixed train which arrived here at noon that day. Squire said he knew doggon well it would never do to go on home on that train as Missus Dean would shore have him doing something around home during the balance of the day, besides if he got off here and went in home on the last train the Missus would have all the milking and other night work done up and he'd have nothing to do but put on a tired look, eat supper, look over the paper and go to bed.

I. D. Claire was in town a short time Sunday, and owing to the fact it was Sunday he missed seeing Battle Nall, the Kaiser and Eck Rial's old gray hoss. I. D. C. said he never thought of it's being Sunday or else he would not have paid out his money, or any part of it, to come to Hartford when he hadn't a chance of lamping that trio.

HARDING TO TAKE OATH ON MICAH, 6TH VERSE 8

Marion, Ohio, Jan. 16.—President-elect Warren G. Harding has chosen the Biblical text upon which he will take the oath of office as President of the United States. He will ask that the same Bible which George Washington used be opened at Micah, sixth chapter and eighth verse, which reads:

"He hath shod me, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

Mr. Harding's thoughts have been much on the Bible of late. The President-elect, today pledged his belief in the efficiency of prayer. He believes that prayer will help him with the problems that are before him in the White House.

Mr. Harding said that the affairs of this Nation have been drifting for a long while, but he is approaching his task with confidence and faith. He believes faithfully that God will make him equal to the responsibility.

"I believe in prayer," he said, I believe in prayer in the closet, for there one faces God alone. Many times the outspoken prayer is only for people's ears. I can understand how these prophets of old, in their anxieties problems, perturbations and perplexities, found courage and strength when they gave their hearts to the Great Omnipotent in prayer.

PITTLE-CROWE

Mr. J. F. Crowe and Miss Gertrude Pittle were united in marriage Tuesday at the home of the bride, on lower Nocreek, Rev. R. E. Fuqua pronouncing the words making them husband and wife.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pittle and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crowe, of Beda, both of whom are excellent young people and much esteemed by their acquaintances.

SELECT

Mrs. Emma Simmons and daughter, Miss Cleo, of Rochester, have been visiting friends and relatives in and near Select.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Corwder have moved to Hartford where their son, Hartlert has entered High School.

Mrs. Fanny Autry has moved to the property vacated by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crowder.

Mrs. E. M. Eldson is on the sick list.

Mrs. Lagrada Allen, of Humboldt, Tenn., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stewart.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alva Blacklock, Jan. 11th, a girl.

Mr. M. E. Luch visited his aunt, Mrs. Vilas Peters, of Beaver Dam, Monday, January 10.

The Candidates seem to be stepping up pretty briskly, judging from the number that is passing.

DISABLED VETERANS MUST PAY INCOME TAX

Washington, Jan. 17—Unmarried war veterans must return to the government as income tax 4 per cent of any disability payments they receive in excess of $1,000 a year. The Treasury Department ruled today that it could not, under the law, exempt such ex-service men, altho those still in the service are required to pay only on amounts in excess of $3,500 a year. War risk insurance payments are not taxable.

PROTECTION REPUBLICAN'S AIM

Borah Would Test Sincerity Of Europe's Plans To Disarm.

(By Snell Smith)

Washington, Jan. 15.—On the question of reduction of world naval armaments, which is now agitating European governments as well as the capital of this nation, it is already determined that the Republican majority in Congress will stand for nothing less than a naval force sufficient to meet any emergency that may arise in the future.

It has been proposed by Senator Borah that the United States and Great Britain agree to a fifty per cent reduction in their naval building programs for the next five years. Senator Walsh, of Wyoming, a peace-loving Democrat, is attempting to turn this idea to the benefit of the Wilson administration by suggesting that the United States participate in the disarmament commission of the League of Nations, using that as an opening wedge to participation in the whole general scheme which was repudiated at the polls in November by a majority of seven millions of votes.

England in the Lead.

Senator Borah's plan is really an attempt to sift out just how much sincerity there may be in the disarmament pretences of the European and Asiatic states which are members of the League. He wants to know whether Great Britain, which sent representatives to the conference at Geneva, intends to put its action to the word and actually disarm to any extent agreed upon by the United States. That Empire is today mistress of the seas, as it has been since the days of Drake, and most Republicans in Congress do not believe it intends to relinquish that position except by force.

However, there has been much talk of disarmament. The Hague conferences discussed it. The peace conferences which assembled yearly at The Hague discussed it. But nobody did anything in the way of disarming. Statesmen met and talked, but the training went right on. The greatest war in history came along and even that did not cease those who sought to do away with war by making no preparation for it. The League of Nations, conceived by the British in order to maintain territorial integrity, was also to take up the disarmament question. And it likewise met recently and discussed it, but no action was taken. Not a battleship was dismantled. Not a regiment was disbanded.

What America Must Protect.

So Senator Borah means to put all this pretense to the test of sincerity. He aims to find out whether Great Britain means business. Otherwise, he refers the inquirer to his speech advocating a big navy. Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, sides with him in this stand. He is a member of the Committee on Military Affairs. Assured that within two years the United States will have the largest navy in the world, because of ships now in process of building, he seeks to bring about reduction of armament on the basis of that time. His figures were admitted recently in the House of Commons. It has been rumored that the British government would yield to proposal to reduce the two greatest navies of the world and maintain them on an even basis. But this is only rumor. Frelinghuysen joint Borah in declaring that unless England and Japan also agrees to disarm this country must maintain the greatest navy on the globe. This is what he says.

"New York has replaced London as the banking center of the world. We have supplanted England as the first trading nation of the earth. Our ocean carriers have grown in three short years so that we now are within striking distance of her tonnage. We are the greatest producing nation on the globe. By training 4,800,000 men and sending 2,000,000 across the sea to win every battle in which they were engaged and turn the tide, we have made Washington the capital of the world. Our wealth, which before the war exceeded the combined opulence of the British and German Empires, has gone on by leaps and bounds. The Romanoff, Hapsburg and Hohenzollern dynasties, which overruled weak nations for centuries, have disappeared and ideas of republican government are permeating the world."

Navy Built by Itself.

All this, he goes on, means something worthy of protection by a big navy. And this, unless Great Britain and Japan also consent in disarmament, is to be the Republican policy of the new administration. Members of that party in Congress are mindful of the fact that it was under Secretary of the Navy William E.

Chandler, of New Hampshire, that the modern American navy got its start, and that in the days when the Democrats in the House and Senate were constantly voting against more battleships for the navy they were voting almost to a man for the construction of adequate defense.

In the determination to maintain the navy at the highest pitch of efficiency the Republicans are backed to the limit by the officers of the navy who have been taught in the pages of history and the hard school of experience that talk never prepared a nation for defense or won a battle in time of war. They have testified before the Committee on Foreign Relations, now considering the Borah resolution, that Great Britain at the present moment has 846 ships with a total tonnage of 2,829,661; that the United States has 582 ships with a tonnage of 2,067,578, and that Japan has 332 ships with a tonnage of 980,426. They see Great Britain as the possible rival of the future and desire that we be ready rather than dreading if war between the two nations, which now seems impossible, should ever result. In this the Republicans concur. One thing is certain; there will be no scuttling policy.

Democrats are Demoralized.

Not only on this question but on all others of momentous importance in Congress the Democrats are completely demoralized. In the face of the great and prolonged debate on the tariff in the special session to be called by President Harding, thirty-nine of them in the House voted for the emergency tariff bill designed to protect the products of the American farmers. Probably the country was never so anxious for tariff protection as it is now, and Representative Crowther expresses something of this sentiment by introducing a bill to re-enact the Dingley law, which provided prosperity after McKinley succeeded Cleveland in 1897. The 39 Democrats in the House foresee this too, but the greater number of them are bitterly opposed to the protective principle, and hence the Democratic party is divided on the very issue which has been in the past its main reason for existence. The Republicans meanwhile are alone determined that the farmer, the laborer, the manufacturer and the miner must have protection from an inundation of cheaper made foreign goods.

Leaders Shot to Pieces.

The Democratic rout is made all the more complete by the lack of leadership, in the House especially. Champ Clark, minority leader, is passing out after defeat in the anti-Wilson landslide at the age of seventeen. Claude Kitchin, of North Carolina, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, was stricken with paralysis last year and has not appeared at the present session. It is considered unlikely that he will do so for some time. Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, determined contender for low tariff schedules and righthand man of Kitchin on the Ways and Means Committee, was also a victim of the November deluge. Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, tax expert of the Democratic minority, gave way to a Republican. Finis Garrett, of the same state, who is the ablest parliamentarian of the Democratic side, is waiting to see whether the Republican Senate will confirm his appointment as United States Judge.

Worst of all, for the Democrats in the House, is the fact that they have only 129 members in the new Congress and will be subject to the two-thirds rule at any time. In other words the Republicans will have more than two-thirds majority and will be able to prevent dilatory or filibuster tactics on the part of the Democrats by means of the two-thirds rule, which permits anything except unanimous consent.

No Appealing Issues.

Consequently the minority party is wandering around in a slough of despondency and is so far without an issue upon which to appeal to the country. This has already resulted in their quarreling among themselves as to policy, as evidenced by the farmer tariff vote. Divided, without leaders if without organization, the Democratic party in the House seems to be in a hopeless mess. In the Senate it is more united in opposition to any protective tariff principle and is more nobly led by Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, who was one-time leader in the House as well.

Meanwhile the executive end is somewhat uncertain also. When the curtain was about to be rung down on his official career after the "great and solemn referendum," the President appointed his secretary, "Joe" Tumulty, a member of the Court of Claims for life. But the Republican Senate has not taken kindly to "Joe," and it is not likely that he will be confirmed before March 4th, in which case he is contemplating returning to private life in Washington and remaining a neighbor of his chief, who has purchased a house here at a cost of $150,000. It will be remembered that when in New Jersey politics Mr. Wilson applied to the Carnegie fund for a pension in reward for his services as professor at Princeton.

Senator Heflin's Vision.

"Never you mind," said Senator Tom Heflin, of Alabama, the other day. "You Republicans will get yours. Woodrow Wilson will entirely recover his health, the country will find that he was perfectly right in all that he did, and in four years he will be swept back into the White House by a greater majority than that by which Harding was elected."

"If that is what the Democrats are counting on, they are indeed in a bad way," was the remark of a Republican member.

In order to show him the respect in which he is held, the majority in the House has decided to retire their chaplain, Rev. Henry M. Couden, who has served in that capacity through both Republican and Democratic administrations for 25 years. He is blind as the result of a wound in the Civil War, and is becoming quite feeble. Each day just before noon the thin slender figure of the aged chaplain, rather bent with his years and attired in black, is seen approaching the Capitol, arm in arm with his daughter. He is led to the speaker's desk by a page and there pours out invocation to Almighty God. He is beloved by all the members and his prayers are printed each day in the Record. For the rest of his life he will receive his annual salary while

DECEMBER 31ST CROP ESTIMATE

The annual revised estimates of acreage and production of crops in Kentucky for 1920, issued December 31, by the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna, show an estimated production of 100,650,000 bushels of corn; 467,500,000 pounds of tobacco of all types in the state; 5,610,000 bushels of wheat; 8,225,000 bushels of oats; 6,435,000 bushels of Irish potatoes; and 1,508,000 tons of hay.

The estimates for all crops are given in the accompanying tables, and indicate increases in production of corn, oats, barley, potatoes, apples, peaches, pears, sorghum, soy beans and clover seed; the same production as in 1919 of beans, cowpeas and sweet potatoes, and decreased production of tobacco, wheat, rye and hay. Burley tobacco production in the state increased (according to un-revised estimates) from about 213,000,000 pounds in 1919 to about 236,500,000 pounds in 1920. These estimates may be slightly revised later when more complete checking up of yields is possible. The reduction of dark tobacco acreage in Western Ky., together with light yield in some other counties in 1920 reduced the estimates of the States total tobacco crop of all types from 498,000,000 pounds in 1919 to 467,500,000 pounds of all types together in 1920.

The acreage of wheat sown in Kentucky in the fall of 1920 is estimated at 25,000 acres, the same as in 1919, the condition of the crop December 1, 1920, being 84 per cent of normal compared to 50 Dec. 1, 1919, and an average condition Dec. 1, of 90. The total acreage of wheat sown in the United States in the fall of 1920 is estimated at 40,605,000 acres, or 97.2 per cent of the acreage sown in the fall of 1919. The condition of the United States wheat crop Dec. 1, 1920, is given as 87.9 per cent of normal compared to 85.2 December 1, 1919 and a 10-year average Dec. 1, of 88.4 per cent.

Senator Wadsworth, of New York, is after the sugar barons. He has introduced a joint resolution authorizing the President to require the United States Sugar Equalization Board to take over the importation of 13,092 tons of sugar from the Argentine Republic procured by the government and to dispose of the sugar thru the market.

FRANCE ALARMED BY LOW BIRTH RATE

Government Called Upon To Encourage Women to Bear More Children.

Paris, Jan. 15.—So low is the birth rate in France that doctors and deputies are calling upon the government to encourage women to have children by first promising them help both financially and medically and by granting them certain privileges.

Professor Pinard, a member of the French Academy of Medicine and the mother's friend in Parliament, has drawn up the project of a law which he requests be discussed and voted upon as soon as possible. In this law Professor Pinard suggests:

First—That there be instituted throughout France offices of protection for mothers and children.

Second—That there be granted to every woman four months before childbirth and for a month after an allocation of ten francs per day on the condition that the woman stays at home and tends her child and refuses all work during that period.

Third—That beginning with the second month after birth and if the mother keeps her child by her and feeds it herself a grant of sixty francs a month be made for eleven consecutive months. In the case of widows or unmarried mothers the grant should be increased to 120 francs and doubled or tripled according to the number of children.

Pointing out that in many cases mothers are often unable to have or can not afford proper medical attention in their homes, Professor Pinard proposes that homes be founded out in the country where women would be admitted free five months before childbirth.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh is influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foci of infection and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Rutland, Vt., Jan. 18.—The all his internal organs are "on the wrong side" and he has tuberculosis. William Bowen, of West Charleston, Vt., a patient at the Vermont sanitarium in Pittsford, is going to get well, say the doctors, to whom the man is an anatomical curiosity.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THAT MIGHTY SERVICEABLE TRUCK

There is this about the Ford one-ton truck that keeps it growing in popularity, namely, the good reports which the owners of Ford trucks spread abroad among their friends and acquaintances.

There is no testimony of merit quite so strong as the testimony of personal experience. It is not long after a Ford one-ton truck is sold in a community until other sales of the same truck follow, because "its work do follow it."

Well, "there is a reason." Yes, there are many reasons. The Ford one-ton truck was built to serve and to satisfy. It carries all the Ford virtues; lightness in weight, simplicity in design, strength in construction, flexibility and durability—besides it has the lowest first cost and brings the lowest operating expense in the truck market.

It is just as useful; just as necessary on the farm as it is in the city. It is just as necessary to the tradesmen, manufacturers, contractors, commission men and others in the city as it is necessary for such concerns to have a place to do business in; in other words, the Ford truck is a general utility, and because of this fact and the further fact of its universal economy it is in a class by itself.

We will be glad to take your order for one or more Ford trucks and will give you fairly prompt delivery. You will likewise have the assurance of that reliable and economical after-service which is such a valuable factor in the service of Ford cars. Price, truck chassis $545.00, f. o.

STATE DEBT REDUCED UNDER G. O. P. REGIME

State Inspector James Shows Deficit Materially Cut

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—Kentucky's finances are looking up, State Inspector and Examiner H. E. James says so and he is, in a position to know. He says there is every indication, as a result of the wonderful showing already made by the Republicans, that "the end of the fiscal year (June 30, 1921) will find a most substantial and satisfactory reduction of the state's indebtedness."

In a statement issued today, Mr. James says:

"The statement carried in the daily papers on January 14, to the effect that the state debt on January 1, 1921, had increased over what it was on January 5, 1920, gives an entirely incorrect view of the situation.

Figures are Explained.

"The records show that on January 5, 1920, the date on which the Republican administration assumed charge of the state government, the outstanding interest-bearing warrants were $2,017,809.32. In addition to this indebtedness represented by warrants there had accrued under the Democratic administration, and was owing by the state at the time the Republicans assumed power on January 5, 1920, unadjusted claims for which warrants had not yet been issued to the amount of $1,503,027.62, making the total indebtedness of the state government at the time the Republican party assumed power of $3,520,846.94.

"On January 5, 1920, there was in the state treasury and was turned over to the Republican administration cash amounting to $1,200,684.50, leaving the net outstanding indebtedness of the state at the time the Republicans assumed power of $2,320,162.44. On December 31, 1920, which was the close of the first year of the Republican administration, there were outstanding interest-bearing warrants amounting to $6,552,776.68. There were on that date no outstanding unadjusted claims. On the same date there was cash on hand in the state treasury $4,080,517.01, leaving the total net indebtedness of the state at the close of business on December 31, 1920, $2,472,257.67.

Big Reduction Made.

"Beginning with July 1, 1920, the state operated for the first time under the budget system, each and every department of the state government, save the schools, the judiciary and the legislative department, being given specific sums under which they should operate for the ensuing fiscal year. In the nature of things, a great many of the departments, like the university, the normal schools and other departments, drew at the beginning of the fiscal year their entire appropriation allowed for certain branches of their work, which, of course, would correspondingly reduce the amounts which those departments will draw from the state treasury for the remainder of the fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1921. The amounts drawn by these departments, in excess of their half yearly allowance, had the allowance been divided into two equal parts, amounts to $512,217.36, and to that extent, of course, reduces the amount which will be drawn from the treasury for the remaining half of the fiscal year. When this $512,217.36 is deducted from the $2,472,257.67, as it properly should be deducted, there is left a real net indebtedness of the state on the first day of January, 1921, of $1,960,030.31, as against the deficit of $2,320,162.44 inherited by the Republican administration. By deducting the deficit on January 1, 1921, from the deficit on January 5, 1920, it will readily be seen that in the period the Republican party has been in charge of the state's affairs there has been an actual reduction in the state's indebtedness of $360,132.13.

Further Saving Promised.

"In my judgment, this is a remarkable showing, in view of the fact that for the first six months the Republican party was in power it was working under the old plan of expenditures, when nothing could be saved, as in many instances there was no check upon the various departments and institutions of the state. It should also be borne in mind that we had a legislative session on hand the first year the Republicans had charge of the state government, and that this occasioned an expense to the state of approximately $140,000 which was not borne the previous year, nor will same have to be borne during the present year, and but for this session of the General Assembly the reduction of the state debt to this date would have been at least half a million dollars. For the calendar year ending December 31, 1920, the gross receipts into the state treasury were $12,861,008.2, which amount is $361,729.50 less than the gross receipts into the treasury for the same period ending December 31, 1919, the last year of the Democratic administration.

"In view of this remarkable showing made during the first six months of the current fiscal year, in the face of reduced revenues and the extra expense of the legislative session, I have every reason to indulge the hope that the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, will find a most substantial and satisfactory reduction of the state's indebtedness."

PERMANENT 4TH LIBERTY LOAN BONDS READY JAN. 3

Holders of temporary bonds of the fourth Liberty loan may now present them to their banks to be exchanged for permanent fourth Liberty loan coupon bonds, or registered bonds, according to their wishes. As was done in the case of other Liberty bond issues, the banks will give the holders receipts for the bonds turned in, and will notify them when the new bonds are ready to deliver.

Deliveries of the new bonds, with all interest coupons attached, will begin here January 3, and will proceed as rapidly as supplies are received from Washington. The banks and trust companies turn over the temporary bonds to the Federal Reserve Bank, by which they are encashed and forwarded to the Treasury Department. The Federal Reserve Bank, however, does not receive bonds for exchange from individuals.

POLAND SACRIFICES TO SAVE CHILDREN

Brest-Litovsk, Jan. 1.—The one optimistic note in the deep need prevailing throughout the war-torn areas of Eastern Poland is the extraordinary faith of the people in the children. The elder generation has put all its hope and trust in the future of the younger element. In fact, in many instances, it is deliberately sacrificing itself for the children of the nation, the citizens of the future.

Government reports show that, while many hospitals are in a neglected condition, while homes for the aged are run down and are permitted to remain so, everywhere the orphanages are excellently equipped and in nearly every case splendidly conducted. Every facility is placed at the disposal of these institutions by the local authorities. In war-ravaged districts, where supplies of all kinds are lacking, the orphanages get the best of everything which can be obtained.

How far this is true is well indicated by the fact that in one district the authorities, applying to the American Red Cross for aid, asked assistance for one military hospital, four general hospitals and twenty orphan asylums. The proportion, so markedly favoring the orphanages at the expense of other charitable institutions indicates the extent to which the elder generation are ready to sacrifice themselves for the sake of the children.

INJECT ETHER INTO VEINS OF PATIENT

Boston, Jan. 16.—Ether administered thru a vein in the elbow to induce anesthesia for a major operation was successfully applied for the first time, it is believed, in Boston, in a surgical case at the Elm Hill Hospital, on Walnut avenue, Roxbury.

The patient, whose name is withheld, went under the knife for cancer of the brain.

Dr. R. E. T. Rhames was in charge of the operation, with Dr. Nicholas Dynan and Dr. Richard J. Costello as assistants.

In the case of the Roxbury patient, the anesthetic could not be administered in the usual way, by inhalation, because of a nasal obstruction.

A 5 per cent portion of ether in a salt solution was introduced into a vein at the elbow by means of a gold needle connected with a tube, which in turn connected with a reservoir of the fluid. Sleep having been induced within ten minutes, the cerebro-spinal fluid was then removed from the patient's system to allow the operation. In due time the patient recovered consciousness.

The intravenous method, so-called, of producing anesthesia has been in successful operation for some time in Paris and a number of American cities.

BRITISH FREIGHTENED AT U. S. MEAT CONTROL

Packers of America Command
World's Output London Board Of Trade Told.

London, Jan. 15.—Apprehensions of a worldwide meat control by American packing firms were disclosed in a recent report to the Board of Trade by a subcommittee of the standing committee on trusts.

"At present the American meat companies have nearly 60 per cent of the beef output from Argentina and Uruguay and about 75 per cent of the capacity of the meat plants built or building in Brazil," the report stated. "Moreover, they control nearly one-half of the whole trade of Smithfield (the great London meat market) and they have also a solid footing in Canada and Australia.

"Fears as to the extension of their activities are not confined to the United Kingdom, but are equally strong in the dominions," it continued.

England Faces Shut-off.

"The more they may be able to extend their operations in South America, the more they may be able to divert supplies from reaching the United Kingdom, and the more they are able to control distribution business here, the more securely they will have the British consumer in their grip."

Suggestions were made by the committee to restrain, by taxation and by subsidizing refrigerated shipping companies, the expansion of foreign interests here, and an international investigation was recommended to go into the whole situation with a view to taking common action.

A rejoinder to the committee's findings is made by R. H. Cabell, the London manager of Ardmour & Co., who in an interview with a press association representative, complains that none of the American firms were heard by the committee and charges that the latter's report was compiled "under strong prejudice."

"Several passages in the report show a clear but very ill-informed animus against the American firms," Cabell says. "Particularly in its reference to Argentina. No one would guess from the report that the Chicago packers entered the Argentine trade at the request, almost at the entreaties, of the British firms which had opened up the territory and had paid heavily for their experience and were anxious to be bought out."

Mr. Cabell suggests that part of the supposed animus disclosed in the report is due to the reluctance of certain British firms to compete with the less wasteful and more efficient methods of their American rivals, and he says the only effect of the report must be to raise meat prices all over the United Kingdom.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Cullman, Ky., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."

A "FEMALE RASPUTIN" PREACHES NEW WARS

Berlin, Jan. 15.—A Bolshevik prophetess—a "female Rasputin"—is reported to have arisen in Soviet Russia and rumor credits her with great influence in the Kremlin, the Bolshevik "White House" in Moscow.

Olga Gurokoff, aged 23, according to the Neue Wiener Journal of Vienna is the new "Egeria" and is alleged to be one of Lenin's closest advisors. It is told of her that she goes into trances, sees visions of Bolshevism dominating the world in the near future and preaches war against England in Asia as the right means of breaking the power of the British lion.

BOMB PLOT NEWS TO FEDERAL AGENTS

New York, Jan. 14.—White fresh cordona of police continued tonight to guard public buildings, churches, homes and offices of prominent men. George F. Lamb, chief of the local Department of Justice agents, denied he had received information of a supposed bomb plot.

Mr. Lamb said his department was taking no interest in the bomb rumor and none of the government operatives was on duty guarding public buildings and residences. William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, also denied he had received knowledge of the supposed plot.

Asked whether there was any organization to which the alleged bombing demonstration might be attributed, Mr. Lamb said:

"So far as I know, there is no organization behind it. I have had no official notice of the plot and I have no authority to act."

A formal warning was sent today from the American Defense Society calling on its members in New York City particularly and the country generally to be on the alert against any anti-governmental activities.

MAIL BAGS GONE, $580,000 MISSING

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Jan. 14.—Four registered mail sacks one of which said to have contained $80,000 and the other three of which may have contained nearly $500,000 due today or tomorrow to meet miners' payrolls, were still missing tonight despite efforts of postoffice officials to trace them. The sacks were missed today by the transfer agent, who was to take them from the postoffice here to the Chicago and Eastern Illinois station.

One coal operator reported $280,000 expected today to meet his payroll, had not been received tonight.

Federal officials investigating the matter declined to comment.

OIL LEATHER ARTICLES

Government experts advise that shoes and other leather articles should be oiled from time to time in order to prolong their usefulness. Dress shoes may be treated with castor oil. Clean the shoes, rub the oil well into the leather and wipe off the surplus. After a few hours they may be polished in the usual manner. Tan shoes will be darkened by the oil. Neatsfoot oil, tallow, vaseline or fish oil may be used on shoes that are not to be polished. Wash harness in tepid water and neutral soap. Oil before the leather dries. Wipe off the surplus oil before using.

Leather in the past has been so plentiful and cheap in this country that people have not learned to take care of such materials properly. Leather in time will lose its oils and become stiff and weak, whereas if kept well oiled it will last indefinitely. Mineral oil is not so good for leather as animal oil, though it is better than nothing.

DRY BANQUETS MORE ORDERLY

Col. Bryan is pleased with what has been accomplished so far by the anti-liquor amendment to the constitution. "It is splendid," he remarked, "to see the good order that now prevails at political banquets. In the old days there was considerable drunkenness at these affairs. At such a banquet one evening the chairman said to a rather noisy guest: 'Excuse me sir, but may I ask your name?'

"Morgan's—me—hic—name," the guest replied.

"Your full name, I mean; what is your full name?"

"The guest pulled himself together and hiccuped once or twice. 'It's just the same' he said, 'full or sober.'

SQUARE MILE IN DUBLIN IS CIRCLED BY SOLDIERS

Dublin, Jan. 16.—The whole section of North Dublin was cordoned by soldiers and police last night and today. The street railway service along the north quay was suspended.

The center of the cordoned district includes Church Street and the place where the soldiers were ambushed recently and North King Street. The scene of fierce fighting in the Easter rebellion.

A total area of a square mile is surrounded, and the biggest raid Dublin has yet experienced has been underway. Only the military have been engaged inside the cordon, and it is believed every house will be systematically searched, the raid lasting several days.

Hundreds of soldiers are taking part and field kitchens are providing them with food.

SHIP CIRCLES GLOBE

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—The West Kasson, first United States steam freighter to circle the globe is back in port. It traveled 30,000 miles and carried between various ports 16,000 tons of cargo.

SPOON BLUFFS THIEF.

New York, Jan. 15.—"Behave yourself!" commanded Miss Bertha A. Miller as she jabbed something shiny into the ribs of Michael Amio, who had broken into her apartment. Amio kept his hands up until the police came. The shiny thing was a silver spoon.

ROKE? STAY HOME!

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Two bandits held up Antoine Lanzel, ripped his coat lining and tore off his shoe soles. "You're a fine citizen you are!" they exclaimed. "Waddye mean, appearing on the streets without money?"

STATE COLLEGE READY FOR FARM CONVENTION will be taken over by the State police.

Many persons interested in the Matewan battle trials, scheduled for January 19, continued to come in the town today.

The probable outcome of the troops' return to Camp Sherman is the chief topic of discussion here.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 15.—With the final program completed and all the necessary details arranged, everything is in readiness for the conclave of 2,000 farmers and their wives who are expected to journey to Lexington for the Ninth Annual Farm and Home Convention which will be held at the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, Feb. 1-4, according to an announcement made today by R. Elliott, leader of specialists at the college.

Special care has been taken in the arrangement of the 1921 program and those in charge of it are responsible for the statement that it is superior to any that has been outlined for a similar meeting of farm men and women in Kentucky. More than 20 out-of-state speakers together with the entire staff of the agricultural college will take part in giving the convention men and women lectures and demonstrations on practically every phase of agriculture and home life.

Special care will be given to the women who attend, a special program having been arranged for them. In addition to this feature there will be a four-day tractor school and meetings of seven important agricultural organizations of the state. Topics of interest to all farmers and their wives whether they raise poultry or dairy cattle are included in the list of subjects so that it may truthfully be said that the 1921 convention will have a universal appeal for all farm men and women of the state.

Eighty Enrolled in Short Course

Eighty young men were enrolled in eight weeks short course in agriculture which is being given by the State College of Agriculture at the close of the enrollment, according to an announcement made by Dean Thomas Cooper. The list of those taking the course includes 63

FRIDAY..... JANUARY 21

On account of running a page ad in this issue, received about 4 hours before time to go to press, we were forced to leave out quite a number of articles and to cut this column short.

There seems to be an ever-ready
Irish question to add to and prolong England's troubles, and, while John Bull's worry is nearer her feet, the U. S. A., has a question all her own, the further away, the Japanese question seems to be no less ever present in some form or other.

Times seem a bit "squally" and most everything out of joint, but the best way to get by is to keep plugging away. The fellow who throws up his hands and stops in the wake of the van is certain to be trampled upon and crushed by those who keep moving on the course. Let's not quit, keep fighting on the trail, perhaps next year we can look back and talk about the rough places we passed in 1921. Somewhere out yonder normality is to be reached. Let's keep going.

BILLION, FIRST YEAR'S COST OF PROHIBITION

Washington, Jan. 18.—Treasury officials estimate that the first year of prohibition has cost the—Government,
National and State—combined, more than $1,000,000,000. This includes loss in saloon licenses and special taxes.

Directly, the National Government has been set back $230,900,000 in loss of revenue and the cost of "enforcing" the Volstead law, according to official figures. Enforcement costs $5,400,000 but with the present organization it will rise to $7,200,000
the ensuing year.

Penalties for violation of the law have approximated $2,220,000

SPECIAL COMMUNICATION to pay the last respects to our brother, Alfred James Carter, who died January the 10th, 1921.

Brother Carter became a member of Hartford Lodge No. 675 on Sept. 4th, 1893, when he was elected to membership on Demit from Hermitage Lodge No. 356, of the State of Illinois, and has remained in good standing and been a faithful member of this lodge since that date.

In his death the lodge has lost a highly esteemed member and the community a citizen whose daily life exalted principles of true manhood and true Masonry.

Although quiet, dignified and unassuming, he was ever diligent in the good and progressive movements of his community, and his useful and unselfish life will be an ever-enduring monument to his memory in his community and with those who knew him.

And as it has pleased the Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call from labor on earth to that Lodge on High, our beloved brother, Alfred James Carter, and whereas brother

Carter was ready at all times to assist in advancing the interests of his lodge, church and community, therefore be it

Resolved: That Hartford Lodge

member, his family a devoted husband and father and the community an honored and useful citizen.

Resolved, That we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy and can comfort them in this, their hour of bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and

SENATOR WILLIS LAUDS HARDING

Declares Next President Will Be His Own Master At All Times.

New York, Jan. 15.—"President-elect Harding will not be controlled by that nonexistent fragment of a political brain, the so-called Senate oligarchy and no individual, faction, clique or ring can speak for him," declared Frank H. Willis, who has been appointed Senator from Ohio, speaking tonight at the 35th annual dinner of the Ohio Society of New York. Senator Atleo Pomerene sat at the speakers' table.

Paying tribute to Mr. Harding as "the peer of any of the six Presidents Ohio gave to the nation," Mr. Willis, who will succeed the President elect in the Senate, said:

"I am not his mouthpiece, nor will any other man have that honor. He acts as a great Ohio President will speak for themselves. He will welcome illuminating information from every legitimate source. To him a bricklayer and bank president will have the same rights; there is wisdom to be gathered from each."

"But having taken counsel, as befits the chief executive of a country never intended to be a one man country, the decision will be his."

Lauding the incoming administration as distinctly American, Mr. Willis said it will perform "to the fullest every international obligation, will cooperate with all other civilized peoples to reduce armaments, but it will not surrender American sovereignty to any foreign council of nine or ninety."

Among guests at the dinner were Senator-elect Ralph H. Cameron, Arizona; Henry W. Taft, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Charles M. Schwab. Benjamin B. Avery, president of the society, presided and the invocation was offered by the Right Reverend William A. Leonard, bishop of Ohio.

It was recalled tonight that at last year's dinner of the society, President-elect Harding was the guest of honor and the late George W. Perkins. In introducing him, predicted he would be the next President of the United States.

KING AND ARCHDUKE

KILL 76 WILD BEASTS

San Lucas, Spain, Jan. 16.—King Alfonso, with Archduke Frederick of Austria, engaged today in an extreme. They successful hunting expedition in the forests of this vicinity, bringing down numerous wild cats, wild boar and deer.

Altogether the two sportsmen accounted for seventy-six animals in the course of the day of which King Alfonso shot more than half.

The hunters were in the saddle nearly sixteen hours.

LONDON GIRLS WEAR BRACELET ON ANKLES

London, Jan. 15.—Like all the so-called "fashions" and fads of the feminine world, the wearing of the wrist watch round the ankle has passed. Now they are wearing a small silver chain.

A smartly-dressed woman was seen walking along Regent street wearing a small chain of silver fastened around her ankle. To a mere unformed man it looked useless, but it looks quite dainty upon an elegant silk stocking.

MODEL COURT FOR ECONOMY IS CITED

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—The remarkable record of Circuit Judge Carl Henderson and Commonwealth's Attorney Charles Ferguson of the Fourth Judicial district, in holding down jury fees and collecting fines and forfeitures is held up by State Inspector and Examiner Henry E. James as a model for court officials of other districts.

The report shows Livingston County petit jurors did not average more than a week apiece during the two-year period from November, 1918, to December 1920. The Inspector attributes the good showing to care in arranging the dockets so that cases may be tried the day they are set instead of compelling witnesses and jurors to wait around from day to day. Witnesses in Livingston rarely drew more than one day's attendance.

The condition in Livingston is typical of all the Fourth District counties, and the records in the Auditor's office show that for the last year the four counties of the district, Caldwell, Crittenden, Hopkins and Livingston, averaged $441.50 for petit jurors, compared to an average of $1,974.50 for the State and $129.50 for all jurors, compared to an average of $2,457.20 for the State.

The courts of this district collected and reported in fines and forfeitures an average of $3,550 to the county, compared to an average of $3,109 for the whole State although Hopkins is the only large county in the district.

Grand juries are limited to a week unless the time is extended, and the Fourth District counties were among the lowest in the cost of grand juries.

WISCONSIN TOWN SCOFFS AT REFORM

Hurley, Wis., Jan. 15.—"The wettest town in the United States" retains its title despite a "dry cleaning" recently by prohibition officials.

Fifty federal agents took two dry loads of "hootch" away and announced that it was "thoroughly dried."

But liquor passes over the bars of 38 saloons nightly.

The prohibition agents had not left Ironwood, Mich., across the river, with 52 prisoners and evidence before Hurley began a "wake" to mourn the departed.

Bottles are tipped, cards are dealt for stakes, shots are fired and the night is made hideous with brawls. A movie director would not have to erect any sets here for scenes in a "bad man" movie.

Rough frame buildings erected for saloons, dance halls and gambling dives are still in use.

Hurley has gone thru the transition from lumber camp to mining town. The characters about the bars are garbed in rough clothes and heavy boots.

Robert M. La Follette, when governor of Wisconsin, sent special agents into Hurley to clean it up after local officials had failed to act. The reform lasted two weeks—until the agents left.

"A straight gambler" dominates the town.

And the men of Hurley laugh as they wait for another "clean up."

BLUE LAWS RAPPED BY CHURCH SOCIETY

Washington, Jan. 15.—Sunday blue laws are described as entrenchment of civil power into the spiritual realm in a memorial adopted by the general conference committee of Seventh Day Adventists made public today at its headquarters here. Opposition to all Sunday laws is declared, particularly to proposed federal enactments.

Asserting that the complete separation of church and state was essential to the country's wellbeing, the memorial declared that failure to recognize this distinction in the past had been the primary cause of religious persecutions. The present "strong organized effort" to secure blue law enactments, it added, are destructive both to the church and the state, however innocent they may appear, and if successful will eventually destroy the pillars upon which our government is founded.

"Sabbath keeping is not a civil but a religious duty," the memorial declared. Congress, therefore, has nothing whatever to do with the question of its observance.

"Only those whose hearts God has changed can truly keep a holy Sabbath. As no legislation by Congress can change the human heart, to make citizens perform a religious act when they are not religious is to enforce hypocrisy by law.

"Honest labor is no more uncivil on Sunday than on Monday. It is only religious prejudices which are disturbed by labor on this day more than on other days. But bolstering of some particular theological dogma and protecting the religious prejudices of citizens is not the business of Congress.

SMALLPOX AGAIN GROWS SERIOUS

State Board of Health Emphasizes Necessity of Universal Vaccination.

Everyone in Kentucky who has not been vaccinated recently should have this attended to immediately. The State Board of Health urges in a Bulletin just issued on smallpox, as this disease has again appeared in several widely-separated districts throughout the State.

In emphasizing the need of vaccination attention is called by the Bulletin to the ease with which smallpox can spread in a community from one person who has the disease if his case is of the mild kind which does not confine him to his bed. "Such a case," the Bulletin adds, "is like a spark in tinder and usually means an epidemic."

The Bulletin also calls attention to the fact that there is a statute which makes it unlawful to remain unvaccinated, and urges health and school boards, town trustees and fiscal courts, and corporations and business people everywhere, to co-operate systematically and earnestly in providing and requiring vaccination for all within their respective jurisdictions, or in their employ.

"The business men in many places," the Bulletin adds, "especially in the smaller cities and towns, where facilities for caring for cases of this disease are usually inadequate, have suffered, and are continually liable to suffer, incalculable loss from outbreaks which paralyze trade and which can only be certainly prevented by universal vaccination.

The law is ample to secure this, and the time has come for its uniform enforcement, by education and persuasion if possible, but by legal process where persuasion, kind explanations and pleas for the public welfare fail."

AMERICANIZING HIM.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 15.—George Galanis, a Greek, said something to George Graham, a Scotchman. It was Greek to Graham. He had Galanis arrested. "I called him a d—n fool," Galanis testified. "That's all right, I thought it was something else," said Graham. "Two dollars and costs," said the judge.

RADICALS SEEK TO SPLIT FARMERS' LEGION SAYS

Clay Center, Neb., Jan. 16.—Charging that Non-partisan League organizers are seeking the overthrow of existing farmers' organizations, farmers and business men united at a meeting called here last night by the American Legion to seek a method of halting the formation of a league in the County. Feeling was tense, and although the organizers were present, they made no effort to speak.

ARMY RAZOR WAS "PUNK"

"Most of our army supplies," remarked a congressman, "were good—they were costly but they were good. Once in a while, though, the supply department let something inferior get by. 'George, I said to a waggish soldier one day, 'isn't that a wound stripe you're wearing on your sleeve?'

"'Yea, sir,' he replied, 'it is.'

"'May I ask how you got it?'

"'Shavin' my a—ol, sir,' he answered with twinkling eyes, 'shavin' myself, sir, with an army razor.'

CAN HEAR WITHOUT EAR-DRUM

It is generally understood that when the ear-drum is broken the sense of hearing in the ear affected will be lost, but medical investigators have established the fact that complete loss of the drum does not necessarily result in deafness. Its loss however, impairs the sense of hearing more or less.

DARK MARKS ON PLASTER

Every observant person has noticed that a plastered wall or ceiling after a time will not present the same appearance all over, but the surface will be broken into streaks and patches of lighter and darker hue. This matter has been studied by an investigator, who says that the marks in most cases are due to dust deposited over portions of the plaster where heat flows rapidly and where water condenses as a result of the cooling. In other cases the checking of air currents by moldings or other obstructions lessens the air's carrying capacity and thus causes the deposition of dust. Quite commonly the spaces between the laths on the walls have a darker color than the spaces over the laths. This is because the heat and vapors to some extent pass through the plaster between the laths, thus carrying the dust with them.

The foreman entered the editorial sanctum. He was surprised to find the editor's face badly bruised.

"Had a fall downstairs?" asked the foreman.

"No, it's our account of the Jones-Smith wedding, which ought to read, 'Miss Smith's dimpled, shining face formed a pleasant contrast with Mr. Jones' strong, bold physiognomy.'

"And this is how it reads, 'Miss Smith's plump, skinny face formed a pleasant contrast with Mr. Jones' stony, bald, physiognomy.'

"Send them proofreader to me at once," he continued, throwing one bloodstained handkerchief in the wastebasket and searching for a clean one. "There's fight left in me, yet."

ALL KINDS OF "PHOBES"

The old notion that almost everybody is a "little off" in some particular or other is confirmed by E. L. Ash, an authority on neurotics. He tells us that the man or woman who can't ride backward is a "side-phobe." Fear and discomfort when crash and roll of thunder is a "bataphobe." The person who fears the alone in a broad, open space, are symptoms of "agoraphobia." The person who experiences a desire to jump out a high window is suffering from "claustrophobia."

ANOTHER REMARKABLE ALLOY

Blackmetal is an alloy mainly of copper and zinc, produced in Italy while the war was on. It is said to be stronger and to have a higher electrical limit than steel or any other metal. Because it is light, strong and resistant to corrosion it is an excellent material for building airplanes. It resists high temperatures well, may be cast, turned, drawn, rolled, stamped or forged.

EXAMINATIONS

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Nine Bull Associations In One Minnesota County.
St. Louis County, Minn., is the champion bull association county of the United States, and probably of the world, at least as far as numbers are concerned, says a specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who returned recently from that district. Nine bull associations, all organized since 1918 when this territory was swept by a forest fire, have been successful, and now have 364 farmer members.

The bull associations in St. Louis County owe their existence to the forest fire which devastated this territory to such an extent that a State commission was established to furnish aid to the residents of the flame-swept territory. Among other things dairy bulls had to be provided, and the Fire Relief Commission, recognizing the practical value of the cooperative bull association, stipulated that farmers must organize such associations in order to receive this aid. The 9 associations, which resulted from the relief work, brought into the county 35 good purebred bulls, with an average value of about $300 each. As there are 1,859 cows belonging to association members, there is an average of 53 cows to each bull.

Figures obtained from more than 2,000 farms in various sections of the country in which there are no bull associations, show that one bull is maintained for every 18 cows; or in other words, almost three times as many bulls are maintained as would be necessary under the association plan. At this rate, 100 bulls, instead of 35, would have been necessary in the territory covered by these associations in Minnesota; and the expenditure would have been $30,000 instead of $10,500.

Lamb Yield Increased By Liberal Feeding.

Specialized sheep farming in which forage crops were used for the summer pasture, and a study of the relation of nutrition of ewes at breeding time to the percentage of lambs produced were included in the experimental work conducted last year by the United States Department of Agriculture at the Government farms at Beltsville, Md., and Middlebury, Vt.

Data were obtained relative to the comparative relish with which sheep take different forage-crops and the gains made while pasturing upon them. It was demonstrated that with the frequent rotation necessary in pasturing forage crops, sheep could be successfully raised without danger of infestation by stomach worms or other internal parasites. Experiments in the last four years to test the effect of feed at breeding time upon the size of the lamb crop have shown an increase of 18.8 per cent of lambs produced by increased nutrition of ewes during mating season for both Beltsville and Middlebury. This is an increase of 25.9 per cent in the Beltsville flock and 8.5 per cent in the Middlebury flock.

In experiments with 120 western ewes at the Middlebury farm to test the effect of running sheep in permanent pasture upon the growth of weeds, and the carrying capacity of the fields, it has been demonstrated that sheep are beneficial in clearing pastures of weeds, but that it must be accomplished gradually and should not be overemphasized as a reason for engaging in sheep raising.

Careful Breeding Increases Production of Goats' Milk

Milk goat experiments in grading up from native and grade Toggenburg and Saanen does with pure-bred Swiss bucks, begun in 1911, were continued last year by the United States Department of Agriculture, at the Government experimental farm at Beltsville, Md. The flock comprises 25 does and 8 kids of one-half, three-fourth, seven-eighths, and fifteen-sixteenths blood. The average daily milk yield per doe in 1919 was 3.92 pounds, an increase of 2.42 pounds over the yield of the 10 selected native does which formed the foundation stock of the herd. The highest milk yield for an individual doe in one day is 8.6 pounds. For 1919 the flock showed an average of 3.7 per cent butter fat.

Approximately 4,320 acres of land were restored to the Government during the last fiscal year, as a result of land claim cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor for the United States Department of Agriculture. The timber stand on this land is estimated at 22,235,000 feet, valued at $88,840.

Cowpeas Valuable For Both Stock And Soil.

Few crops can be utilized in as great a variety of ways as cowpeas. For centuries they have been grown for human food in Asia, Africa and in the Mediterranean region of Europe. In this country, particularly in the Southern States, the crop is commonly used for this purpose, but its most important use by far is in the feeding of live stock, being utilized for soiling, hay, silage, and pasture. It is also of great value as a green-manure crop to increase the humus and nitrogen content of the soil upon which it is grown. These are points brought out in Farmer's Bulletin 1163, Cowpeas: Utilization, recently published by the United States Department of Agriculture, which discusses not only the utilization of the crop, but the methods of growing and harvesting it for each of its various uses.

Have High Food Value.

Cowpeas, according to the bulletin, are not grown for seed more generally because of the uncertainty of the crop, the expense of harvesting, and the comparatively low yield obtained. In localities well suited to production it will be found highly profitable to grow cowpea seed on a large scale, especially if the best machinery for handling the crop is used. The seed has a high feeding value, but is rarely cheap enough to be used as feed. It can be stored for a considerable length of time without much danger of loss of vitality. As it is subject to attacks from insects, especially the cowpea weevil, the seed produced in Southern States should be placed in cold storage, the bulletin recommends.

Cowpea hay is an excellent forage for all kinds of stock. Even the straw obtained from threshing the peas for seed is a valuable stock feed. As a rule cowpeas should not be cut for hay before the pods begin to turn yellow. The best quality is produced and the hay cuts most readily if the vines are cut when most of the pods are full grown and a considerable part of them matured. If cut before this stage the vines are watery and difficult to cure, while if left too late before cutting there will be an unnecessary loss of leaves in handling and the stems will be tough and woody. The hay is somewhat difficult to cure, but with attention to the stage of growth and to weather conditions little more trouble will be experienced in obtaining well-cured cowpea hay than clover or alfalfa hay.

Cowpeas alone have not given good results as a silage crop. In addition to the high protein content, the green vines contain a large proportion of water, producing a watery silage that keeps poorly and is not well relished by stock. The best silage is obtained when this crop is grown with corn or sorghum.

Serve Best for Hogs.

Although pasturing cowpeas is not thought the best farm practice, under certain conditions it is advisable and quite profitable. Any kind of live stock may be pastured on cowpeas, but hogs are generally used. The best time for turning the stock on cowpeas is when the crop has reached the stage of maturity thought best for hay.

As a soiling crop, the cowpea can be used advantageously to supplement crops with less protein, such as corn, sorghum, and millet. It is used more as a soil builder than any other legume, because it is so easily grown, has such a market effect upon succeeding crops, and thrives under a great diversity of conditions.

How To Unstop A Gas Line.

A complete study of carburetor systems of tractors from the fuel tank to the connections gaskets will be one of the distinct features of the two-day tractor school which will be held at Beaver Dam, Ky., February 21 and 22nd, by the Farm Engineering Department of the State College of Agriculture, which is co-operating with County Agent M. L. McCracken in giving the work to Ohio County farmers who are present or prospective owners of tractors.

The course will be in charge of Earl G. Welch, from the state college who will be assisted by County Agent M. L. McCracken and several local tractor companies. Several representative types of farm tractors will be available for the use of those taking the course and the lectures and laboratories which will be held will be illustrated by means of lantern slides, charts and tractor accessories.

The entire course has been designed to make farmers more efficient operators of farm power units and in addition to carburetors every important part of these machines will be given special attention. Those enrolling in the course will be allowed to study the different types of machines and will also be given an opportunity to operate them.

The course will be given free to all those who care to take it. Full particulars concerning it may be obtained from county agent M. L. McCracken.

Goes 30 Miles FOR MORE TANLAC

Says It's Most Wonderful Medicine In World And Would Go 100 Miles Rather Than Be Without It.

"I have to go thirty miles for Tanlac, but I would go a hundred rather than be without it," said Mrs. Eleanor Case, of Norwich, Pa., while visiting recently at 644 Phillips Ave. Akron, Ohio.

"When I began taking Tanlac I only weighed a hundred and thirty-five pounds and now I weigh a hundred and fifty-one. I had suffered for three years from indigestion and other troubles. My appetite was poor, I had severe pains in my sides, back and chest and awful spells of dizziness.

"My sleep at night was very much broken and I always woke up in the morning with a dull, tired feeling and was so weak and lifeless that I could hardly get up energy enough to cook a meal or sweep my house. It took about all the strength I had to climb a flight of stairs and I would reach the top almost completely exhausted.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel like an entirely different person. My appetite is wonderful and everything agrees with me. I am free from pains and dizziness and I sleep soundly every night and wake up in the morning feeling fine. My housework is actually a pleasure to me and I can run up and down the stairs the same as I could when I was a girl.

"After seeing how Tanlac was helping me, my husband began taking it and it is doing him a world of good, too."

Tanlac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

ADOPT NEW STANDARD OF SILVER COINAGE

London, Jan. 15.—A new standard of silver coinage has just been put into effect in the United Kingdom because of the great increase in the value of silver.

New sixpences, shillings, florins and half-crowns now only contain one-half of pure silver instead of 37 fortolths, as heretofore.

A larger admixture of alloy became necessary when the old coins expected to outlast the old ones became worth more than their face value.

The new coins are harder, and are which are being called in and will be melted into new currency.

INCREASED RATES FAIL TO HELP POOR ROADS

Washington, Jan. 15.—Increased rates granted the railroads have failed to yield anticipated revenues and many roads are in a precarious financial condition, in some instances without funds to purchase supplies, a group of railway executives declared Friday, before the House Commerce Committee.

Urging amendment of the transportation act to enable the carriers to obtain partial settlements for losses sustained during the six months guarantee period after government control ended, the delegation, which included Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, and Samuel Rea, head of the Pennsylvania, told the committee that relief must be granted immediately to the transportation system if the country is to function effectively. Others who urged quick action on relief legislation were William J. Hohns, vice president of the Boston and Maine; M. L. Bell, general counsel for the Rock Island, and T. Dewitt Cuyler and Alfred P. Thom, chairman and general counsel, respectively of the Association of Railway Executives. Chairman Clark, of the Interstate Commerce Commission also advocated amendment of the transportation act to permit partial settlement of the railroads' claims.

Mr. Willard declared that the Baltimore and Ohio "has practically stopped purchasing supplies because with an additional 20-cent road tax.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 14.—An increase of more than $11,000,000 in the assessments of all property in Lexington and Fayette County is shown in the revaluation figures announced by Deputy County Clerk Faust Fouchess. The total assessment was placed at $101,583,197. According to the report there are 1,349 purebred horses in Fayette County, and these are assessed for a total of $291,220. Sixty-three stallions also are assessed at $151,310. The tax rate, it is believed, will remain 50 cents.
